Monmouth drops membership in local Chamber

by Sue Cooper

Claiming it was getting very little support from the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Monmouth Township has not renewed its membership for 1981.

"We don't feel we're getting too much support out of the chamber," Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman said Monday night.

Tallman said the township had not closed the door on the matter yet and a meeting was being arranged with chamber manager Bob Stinson "some time in the next couple of months."

Citing an example that the Wilberforce Good Times festival had been left out of the chamber's column for two consecutive years, Tallman said that not enough importance had been placed on the event by Stinson.

"Bob (Stinson) blamed you people (The Echo) and we blamed him. I think that's his responsibility to make sure it's published...I don't know why we're always on the bottom line," Tallman said.

The township hosts many successful events throughout the year and Tallman said the chamber gives them very little support.

Although the township will still be supporting the chamber through its grant at the county level, Tallman said he didn't feel there was much they could do about that.

In the past, there has been talk of the township finding its own means of advertising which would hopefully prove to be more advantageous than the chamber, Tallman said.

Tallman said that Monmouth was not represented on the chamber's board of directors. (Glen Storey, a

Road oiling puts PCB's in fish: study

A study completed for the Ontario Ministry of the Environment has shown that road oiling can produce concentrations of deadly polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB's) in fish and lake sediments equal to concentrations found at industrialized sites in other parts of the province.

The study indicates that the application of waste oil for dust suppression can produce PCB concentrations in fish that are well above wildlife protection standards set by the International Joint Commission in 1977, even when the PCB content of the oil is within environment ministry guidelines of 25 parts per million (ppm).

To gather the data, environment ministry scientists examined yearling yellow perch and lake sediments in twelve lakes in Muskoka and Haliburton, including Cranberry Lake in Guilford Township and Duck Lake near Carnarvon. PCB residue concentrations in fish from areas where road oiling took place were compared with residues in fish from lakes where roads were not oiled.

The study indicated that "PCB's were significantly elevated in lakes that were affected by runoff from waste oil applications."

Furthermore, "71 percent of all the fish samples analyzed from lakes affected by road oiling exceed the PCB guideline for wildlife protection" set by the International Joint Commission.

Analysis of stream sediments showed that the highest concentrations of PCB's are found "immediately below the oiled road in the stream bed."

Runoff is the major route for the transfer of waste oil from roads into lakes and streams, according to the study. In fact, it states, studies have shown that "99 percent of the oils applied to rural road surfaces left the surfaces either as dust particles or in water runoff."

The net result of oiling, the study shows, is the uptake of PCB's by fish and other aquatic life.

"PCB concentrations in yearling yellow perch from (lakes where roads were oiled) were on the same order of magnitude as residues found in lakes with known industrial or municipal PCB inputs such as Lake Simcoe and Lake Muskoka, or several industrialized sites in Ontario (Trenton, Moira River, Cornwall)," the study notes.

The scientists also found that PCB concentrations decline when oiling is stopped. In conclusion, the study recommends that "the PCB content of waste oils should be reduced in cases where the receiving waters are affected by run off from waste oil applications."

It also notes that the impact

House turns into instant inferno

Wood stove explodes, woman dies in blaze

A Tory Hill man received burns to his face and hands in an unsuccessful attempt to rescue a woman from his burning house late Sunday night.

Matthew John Hogan, 46, was taken to Haliburton hospital for treatment of burns, while Alberta Margaret White, 55, died in the blaze.

Police say that although Hogan made several attempts to rescue White from the small house while it was engulfed in flames, he was unable to reach her.

"He tried to get her out and couldn't," corporal Ron Foran of the Minden detachment said Tuesday.

The blaze, which turned the tiny one-room house into an inferno, began when Hogan apparently threw a flammable liquid into a wood stove and then lit it.

The ensuing explosion burned the house to the ground before anything could be done.

It is doubtful fire fighters from Monmouth's department would have been able to fight the fire even if they had been alerted in time, since only a foot path lead through the bush to the house.

"The house was just an inferno. The house was so small that once the fire started it was just all over the house at one time, I guess," said Foran.

White and Hogan were living in the house while a visitor, Victor Alan Cary, 63 of Pine Street in Haliburton, was staying overnight.

The woman's body has been sent to the Centre of Forensic Sciences in Toronto for identification.

The fire is being investigated by the Minden OPP detachment and the Fire Marshall's office.

Chimney fire spreads to walls, firemen, owners douse flames

by Sue Cooper

After battling a fire with extinguishers and buckets of water, Walter Rosenberg and his son Ken had to call in the Haliburton fire department early Monday morning to fight a chimney fire.

The fire was extinguished by the department but Walter Rosenberg's house was damaged extensively by the water.

Walter Rosenberg said in an interview Monday evening, that he and his son had just finished a cup of coffee and Ken had gone home to get ready for work. But shortly after he left, Walter smelled smoke and ran upstairs to investigate.

He found flames shooting out from the chimney area and called his son for help. Although the two men managed to get the chimney fire out with the extinguishers, the fire had spread down the walls and they could not get at it.

They grabbed buckets and started throwing water on the blaze but the effort seemed useless, Walter said.

They then called the Dysart fire department, which arrived quickly and got the blaze under control.

By Monday night most of the flooring, wall paper and some furniture had been ripped out of the house because of extensive smoke and water damage.

Although Rosenberg plans to fix the house, he said he did not have a cost estimate yet.

Sub committee for museum still to be established

Dysart council sets committees

Dysart et al council has set its committees for 1981.

At a meeting Monday, council approved appointments to the county land division committee, the recreation committee, the museum committee and the library board.

Bob Bishop Sr. was appointed for a three-year term as one of Dysart's representatives on the land division committee. Other members who will represent Dysart are Vince Connaughan, with two years left in a three-year appointment, and Glen Hodgson, with one year left in a three-year appointment.

Serving on council's Ontario Home Renewal Program committee are deputy reeve Harold Bannan, planning coordinator Derrell Stamp, and clerk Wayne Wood.

The recreation committee for 1981 will consist of Scott LaRue, Brian Black, Sid Cooper and Gary McKnight from council, Roy Scott, Dorothy Baker, and Pat Kennedy.

Serving on the museum committee for 1981 will be Jane Heyes, Frank Wallace, Margaret Sisson, Clara Anderson and Harley Cummins. Rotary Club representatives on the committee are Alan Bagg and Gerry Dawson. Representing council are Sid Cooper and Gary McKnight.

Quilters, or would be quilters, got a chance to learn some of the basics when the Guild of Fine Arts held a quilting workshop at the Rails' End Gallery. The workshop ran in conjunction with the opening of the Gallery's quilting competition.

Soyers Lake group, developer compromise on subdivision plan

After a lengthy disagreement between cottagers and a subdivision developer that almost ended in an Ontario Municipal Board hearing, an agreement in principle has been reached with no help from the local council, according to Soyer's Lake Association president, Lew McCorriston.

Speaking from his Toronto office Tuesday, McCorriston said negotiations with the developer, Couchiching Real Estate Ltd. and its solicitors are continuing while a memorandum of agreement has been signed by the two parties.

Apparently the developer has agreed to reduce the subdivision from 17 lots plus one open block to 12 lots, but the actual arrangement of the lots and the final plan have not been completed yet, McCorriston said.

However, McCorriston said the association's only disappointment in the matter was that Anson, Hindon and Minden council did not do enough to facilitate a compromise when the situation came to a head last summer.

"We're quite happy with the ways things worked out...the only disappointing thing is that we didn't have the leadership of the council. We've had to really work this out independent of them," McCorriston said.

Council was aware of the problems on Soyer's Lake when delegations appeared before them more than once last summer asking that minimum lot frontage sizes on Soyer's Lake be increased from 100 feet to 200 feet because of the uniqueness of the lake's rugged shoreline.

At one point council recommended 150 foot frontages for Soyer's Lake but only a month later reversed its decision because some councilors felt the association and other objectors would not withdraw their objections even-

Minister, family find welcome warm in chilly Haliburton

by Sue Cooper

When Reverend John James and his wife Barb came to Haliburton on the second day of January this year, they were frozen to the bone, like the rest of the county, but they were soon warmed by the open-armed welcome they received in their new home.

"Ontario gave us a cold welcome but Haliburton gave us a warm one," Rev. James said from his new home in Haliburton on Monday.

"We've never had a warmer welcome anywhere," Barb said as she remembered that cold day when she came into her new house to find food on the shelves and the beds already made-up.

The reverend and his wife came to Haliburton's United Church Parish after serving for three and a half years in the parish of Welsford in New Brunswick.

Last July, when it was announced that Rev. Don Nicholson would be leaving, the church's committee set to work to find a suitable replacement. When they contacted Rev. James in New Brunswick, he was already in serious negotiations with another church in Ontario.

But, Rev. James said he and his family had never really considered moving to this area of the province because both he and his wife had lived in the southern end of the province.

When they travelled to Haliburton to meet the committee, however, they began to feel that this is where they belonged.

"We felt a strong impression that this is where God wanted us to be," Rev. James said.

So, James, his wife and their two children, Sarah, 4, and Adam, 2, packed up all their belongings and headed west into the cold Ontario winter.

One of the reasons they were willing to change their plans and move to central Ontario was

because of the work Rev. Nicholson had already accomplished in the communities.

"It's good to follow a good minister," Rev. James said of Rev. Nicholson.

In the months to come, Rev. James said he would like to follow some of the guidelines Rev. Nicholson had already tried to establish, one of the most important being to keep the congregation involved.

"It's good to have people who are willing to share the burden," Barb said. She was impressed by the fact that the congregation carried on smoothly for four months without a minister.

But the church didn't get a minister when they chose Rev. James, as he clearly outlined on the top of the church's bulletin last week. Rev. James refers to himself as the pastor and to the entire congregation as the minister.

Being a minister means to serve and "any Christian is called to do that," the reverend explained.

'It takes time to develop trust'

And Rev. James should have a good idea of what being a minister is all about since his father and one brother are both in the clergy and a second brother is just beginning to study the ministry.

Rev. James' father seems to have been an inspiration to all his boys and his son now living here speaks highly of him.

"What he said, he always backed it up by what he did," the reverend said of his father. "He lived according to what he believed."

Although Rev. James spent most of his younger years moving around Ontario he attended high school and university in Windsor where he met his wife, Barb.

The pair, who lived only a few doors apart were "high school sweethearts," Rev. James said.

After they were married they moved to Kingston where Rev. James studied for three years before being posted to New Brunswick.

While still studying in Kingston, Rev. James acted as assistant chaplain at Kingston's maximum security penitentiary for a summer. One of his responsibilities was visiting prisoners in solitary confinement.

Although Rev. James realized these men needed a change before they could become good members of society, he also knew that retraining was not enough to give them a good life.

"At the core, they needed a change in their hearts," he said.

After leaving Kingston, Rev. James and his family adjusted to life in the maritimes and now they face another adjustment into the mainstream of life in Haliburton.

Although the reverend says he enjoys studying and reflection, he will be spending many of his afternoons in the immediate future, visiting with new friends and trying to understand his new community.

"It takes time to develop trust," he said.

Walter Rosenberg was unharmed when a chimney fire broke out in his home Monday morning. Although the fire was extinguished, water damaged the inside of the house and some of his furniture. On Monday, most of the flooring, wallpaper and furniture had been taken out of the house. A damage estimate was not available.

Cottagers, developer agree on changes

en with council's new recommendation.

"I think if we'd had some positive support from council last summer, we'd have sat down or the developer would have sat down with us much earlier without bringing it almost within the day of the court hearing," McCriston said.

Although the association's main objective is to get the agreement with the developer finalized, McCriston said their long range plans are to have 200 foot minimum frontages on Soyer's Lake.

Strategy in the fight for the increased frontages has not been decided upon yet, but McCriston said the association will probably approach council with the recommendation once again.

However, if council plans to review its outdated restricted area by-law in the future, McCriston said the association would "make strong representation at that time."

The association has another meeting with the developer's solicitor on January 21 and hopefully many details can be finalized at that time, he said.

Glamorgan just $20,000 short of goal

With the contract for the construction of a new community centre in Glamorgan Township about to be signed, only $20,880.04 remains to be raised from the private sector.

Estimated total cost of the centre is $250,961.20, which includes $227,480 for the building, $20,473.20 for architects fees, and a projected $30,000 for a well to serve the facility.

John Beachli Construction Enterprises Ltd. of Haliburton was awarded the contract after submitting the lowest of two tenders. Construction is expected to get underway within the next few weeks, with completion set for the end of April.

Funding for the building will come from a number of sources, including Wintario, which has approved a grant of $95,682.75, and the Ministry of Culture and Recreation, which will provide a grant of $58,788.50 under the Community Recreation Centres Act. Private sector funding must total $47,841.38 under the terms of the Wintario grant, while the total to be raised from taxation has been set at $48,648.57.

Arena sound system funded

Efforts to upgrade the sound system at the Dysart arena got a final push Monday when Dysart et al council approved a grant of $600 to cover the last of the work.

The grant from council caps more than a year of effort by the Haliburton Figure Skating Club and Haliburton Minor Hockey during which almost $5000 was raised through various activities. The groups also received a Wintario grant of $2,700 towards the approximately $7,400 cost of the new system.

Installation of new speakers and other devices was carried out last year. Completion of the system will include the installation of mixers, a tape player, a turntable and other equipment which will allow announcements to be made from the time keepers box and centre ice as well as from the sound booth.

Clerk Wayne Wood said Monday that the work will probably take no more than a day to complete once final arrangements have been made.

Committees

In addition to the main committee, a number of sub committees are expected to be formed which will involve other members of the public.

The library board for 1981 will consist of Roy Brohm from council, Victoria Ross, Phyllis Woodcock, Heather Scully, Mary Walling and Blanche Turner.

The weather - Brrrr!

There was little relief over the past week from a cold snap that continues to set records throughout much of Canada.

Monday morning the mercury plunged to a numbing -41C., a record for January 12 in the Haliburton Highlands, and Sunday morning also saw a new record when the mercury dipped to -40C at the weather recording station at Maple Lake.

The warmest temperature recorded over the period of January 5 - 12 was -6C on Tuesday, January 6.

Snow depths now range up to 87 cm. in the north-western part of the county, with a marked difference in depths to the south and west.

A total of 14 cm. of new snow fell during the week.

In general, ice is now thick enough to provide for safe travel, except at river and stream mouths. People unfamiliar with area lakes are urged to use caution and consult local residents about problem areas.

Despite the record breaking cold, a slush layer lies several inches under the snow cover on most lakes.

Trail breaking is now underway on most snowmobile trails, and groomed conditions are expected soon.

Skiing remains excellent on area cross country trails, except where inconsiderate snowmobilers ruin grooming efforts.

Downhill skiing conditions are also excellent. Temperatures are not expected to moderate significantly for at least another week.

The Happy Gang received its first cheque towards a new van or bus that will make their trips around the countryside more enjoyable. Ann Barker of Stanhope Township, organized a dance for their benefit on New Year's Eve. Here, Ron Pearson accepts a $700 cheque from Barker as Dr. Watson Anderson and Vera Griffin look on.

Ann Barker gets bus campaign started

by Sue Cooper

If everyone in Haliburton county cared as much about senior citizens as Ann Barker does, the residents of extender and others from the surrounding area would find life a lot easier.

Barker, a resident of Stanhope Township, presented the executive of the Happy Gang with a $700 cheque last week in hopes that they might be able to purchase a bus or a van to be used for their trips and outings.

At a New Year's dance, which she single-handedly organized as a benefit for this cause, Barker raised the $700 as well as $336 which was donated to the township's various committees.

Although the Happy Gang has set up a transportation committee to look into the matter, it has not decided whether a bus or a large van might be more suitable for their needs.

When the vehicle is purchased, it will be kept at extender but will be available for groups of seniors from all corners of the county to use for only a small mileage charge to cover expenses.

Pat Burk, of the Happy Gang, said Monday, they would be approaching various service clubs in the area for funding of the project. Presently, the Happy Gang must rent a school bus for their trips, some of which have included trips through the Thousand Islands and other long distance excursions. "It's hard on the residents, dragging them on and off the bus," Burk said. She explained that a lift used for baths at the home is used to get some residents on the bus and it is very degrading for them.

With the new van or bus, a ramp or hydraulic lift could be incorporated to make the trips easier. Burk said she felt more residents might enjoy the trips if the bus was easier to board.

If a van were purchased it would also make it possible for volunteers to take the residents into the village with a minimum of frustration.

Although the cheque is the first money to land in the new account, Burk said the Happy Gang was approaching the municipality of Dysart et al to see if it would look after the annual maintenance charges if a vehicle were purchased.

Presently, Wintario does not provide grants for purchases of this kind, but officials are still trying to find other grants which might help out with the project, Burk said.

MOE checks Gelert wells

Three wells in the Gelert area are being tested for pollutants after Snowdon council was told the water was undrinkable.

In mid-December council asked the Ministry of the Environment to test the wells to determine if pollutants were causing the wells to turn bad, township clerk Geoffrey Wynne said last week.

Although the wells of Doris Robertson and Norm Graham were the problem wells in the beginning, the community hall's well was also tested, Wynne said.

However, Wynne said there is a possibility that old rusty pipes might be causing some of the problems in the community hall.

"The water in the hall is not fit to drink," Wynne said. The chemical analysis on the three wells is expected back from the ministry near the end of the month, Wynne said.

Galway/Cavendish minutes

At the most recent meeting of Galway/Cavendish council, the following items of business were considered:

By-law 80-39, a by-law to establish certain lands as a municipal highway, was passed. This by-law will assume the road allowance which runs between Concession 12 and 13, Lots 16 and 17, Galway leading to Hyland Homes subdivision.

By-law 80-40, a by-law to constitute and appoint a Committee of Adjustment, was passed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Kutz attended the meeting to discuss the 14' trailer that they had placed on their property for use for storage and shelter while cleaning up their lot. This trailer is in violation of the municipality's trailer by-law and zoning by-law. After further discussion, the clerk was authorized to issue a trailer permit to Mr. and Mrs. Hans Kutz at a fee of $15 per month covering the period May 1 to November 1, 1981 on the understanding that the same arrangement will be honoured for 1982 providing a building permit for a permanent dwelling accompanies the trailer license application for 1982.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Von Engelbrechten attended the meeting to discuss the sleeping cabin that had been erected on their property which is located too close to the water and is therefore in violation of the front yard provisions of By-law 78-43. After Mr. Von Engelbrechten explained the reason for the cabin being built in that particular location, council recommended to the Committee of Adjustment that a minor variance be granted to Mr. Von Engelbrechten for the sleeping cabin, subject to confirmation by the building inspector of the distance shown on their building permit application of September 20/80 with regard to the set back from the high water mark of 66 feet.

By-law 80-41, a by-law to amend By-law 78-43 was passed. This by-law is to allow for a recreation dwelling to be established with a lesser water front than is required by Zoning By-law 78-43, due to the fact that a building permit had been issued for this property when By-law 546-72 was in effect.

By-law 80-42, a by-law to authorize the borrowing of $60,000 to meet the required funds needed for the Local Improvement Program (Concession Blvd.) was passed.

The clerk was authorized to purchase the Municipal World for a two year period for the members of Council, office personnel and by-law enforcement officers.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign the agreement with the Victorian Order of Nurses for 1981 at a rate of $16.65 per visit.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign the agreement with the Canadian Red Cross Society covering their services in the municipality for the year 1981.

The clerk was authorized to refer the Houslow, Nilsson addition dispute re: side lot line, Lot 26, Concession 12, Galway Township to the township solicitor Ebbs, Tailon and Nichols to proceed with enforcing Zoning By-law 78-43.

Car burns, man uninjured

A Guilford Township resident escaped unhurt last Thursday when his vehicle burst into flames.

Russell Paul was east-bound on Highway 503 in Stanhope Township when the fire broke out. There was no estimate of damage, but police say the vehicle was completely destroyed.

A driver was charged with failing to report an accident Friday when his vehicle left the roadway and knocked down nine guard rails.

Wilbert Dennison was southbound on Highway 121 when his car went out of control.

Damage to the car was estimated at $500. There was no estimate of the damage to the guard rail.

Two men escaped injury Saturday when their cars collided on Mountain Street in Haliburton.

Police say a vehicle driven by Daniel Horslen of Lindsay collided with the side of an approaching car driven by John Stouffer of Dysart Township.

Damage to Horslen's vehicle was estimated at $1000, while damage to Stouffer's vehicle was estimated at $800.

A Glamorgan Township resident was charged with failing to yield from a private drive Saturday after his vehicle was struck by another.

Police say Miri S. MacDuff drove out onto the highway and his vehicle was struck by another driven by Jack Billings, also of Glamorgan Township.

Damage to Billings car was estimated at $1000 while damage to MacDuff's car was estimated at $800.

Police say MacDuff complained of back pains following the mishap, but there were no other injuries.

Compromise

The fact that an Ontario Municipal Board hearing was narrowly avoided when members of the Soyars Lake cottagers association and Couchiching Real Estate Limited reached a compromise on a development for the lake is good news. For it indicates that if enough pressure is exerted in the right way - and just as importantly, for the right reasons - compromises can be reached between developers and cottagers which in the end, mutually benefit both sides.

The tension between existing cottagers and developers can hardly be avoided. The former want to protect what they have, and the environment of the lake on which they own property. They want the lakes to remain as clean and quiet as possible not only for themselves but for future generations. Developers on the other hand are fundamentally interested in financial gain. And although that makes them seem like thoughtless ogers bent on destruction for a quick buck in the eyes of many people, in most cases it simply isn't so.

The clash of developer and cottager inevitably comes back to municipal councils. It is they who must bear the brunt of cottagers' wrath. And it is they who must assume responsibility for the kind of development that takes place within their jurisdiction. That task can only be addressed through sound planning principles set down in zoning by-laws and official plans. But the unfortunate fact is that only one of the nine municipalities in Haliburton County has an official plan. And the result, as the conflict over the development on Soyars Lake amply demonstrates, can be anger, frustration, and substantial long term danger to the environment.

In the case of the Soyars Lake development, cottagers did not seek to stop the subdivision altogether. That would have been unrealistic. Instead, they tried to prove that the lake should be looked at in light of ratio between its shoreline and its surface area. Its numerous bays and peninsulas provide many miles of shoreline while its surface area is relatively small. The cottagers argued, and rightly, that the 100 foot lots allowed in Anson, Hindon and Minden's outdated by-law were simply not sufficient to protect the lake in the future. They wanted to see 200 foot lots as a minimum. Council initially supported the request, agreeing to recommend changes in the Couchiching plan, but later backed down. In so doing they lost credibility in the eyes of many cottagers. And they also demonstrated how vulnerable a municipality without an official plan can be.

The changes that are being made in the Couchiching plan at the urging of Soyars Lake cottagers are no doubt changes for the better. They should allow the developers to make a profit while at the same time affording a degree of protection to the environment that was simply not present in the initial proposal. By cooperating instead of testing the matter before the OMB, both sides have shown that cottagers and developers can work toward important compromises if they view each other less as enemies than as adversaries whose interests, if not exactly identical, are at least fundamentally similar.

Oil we can do without

Anyone with an interest in the local environment will no doubt be shocked by the results of a study completed this summer by Ministry of the Environment scientists. For it shows that road oiling for dust control puts poisonous PCB's into lakes and streams which are subsequently absorbed by young fish and clams.

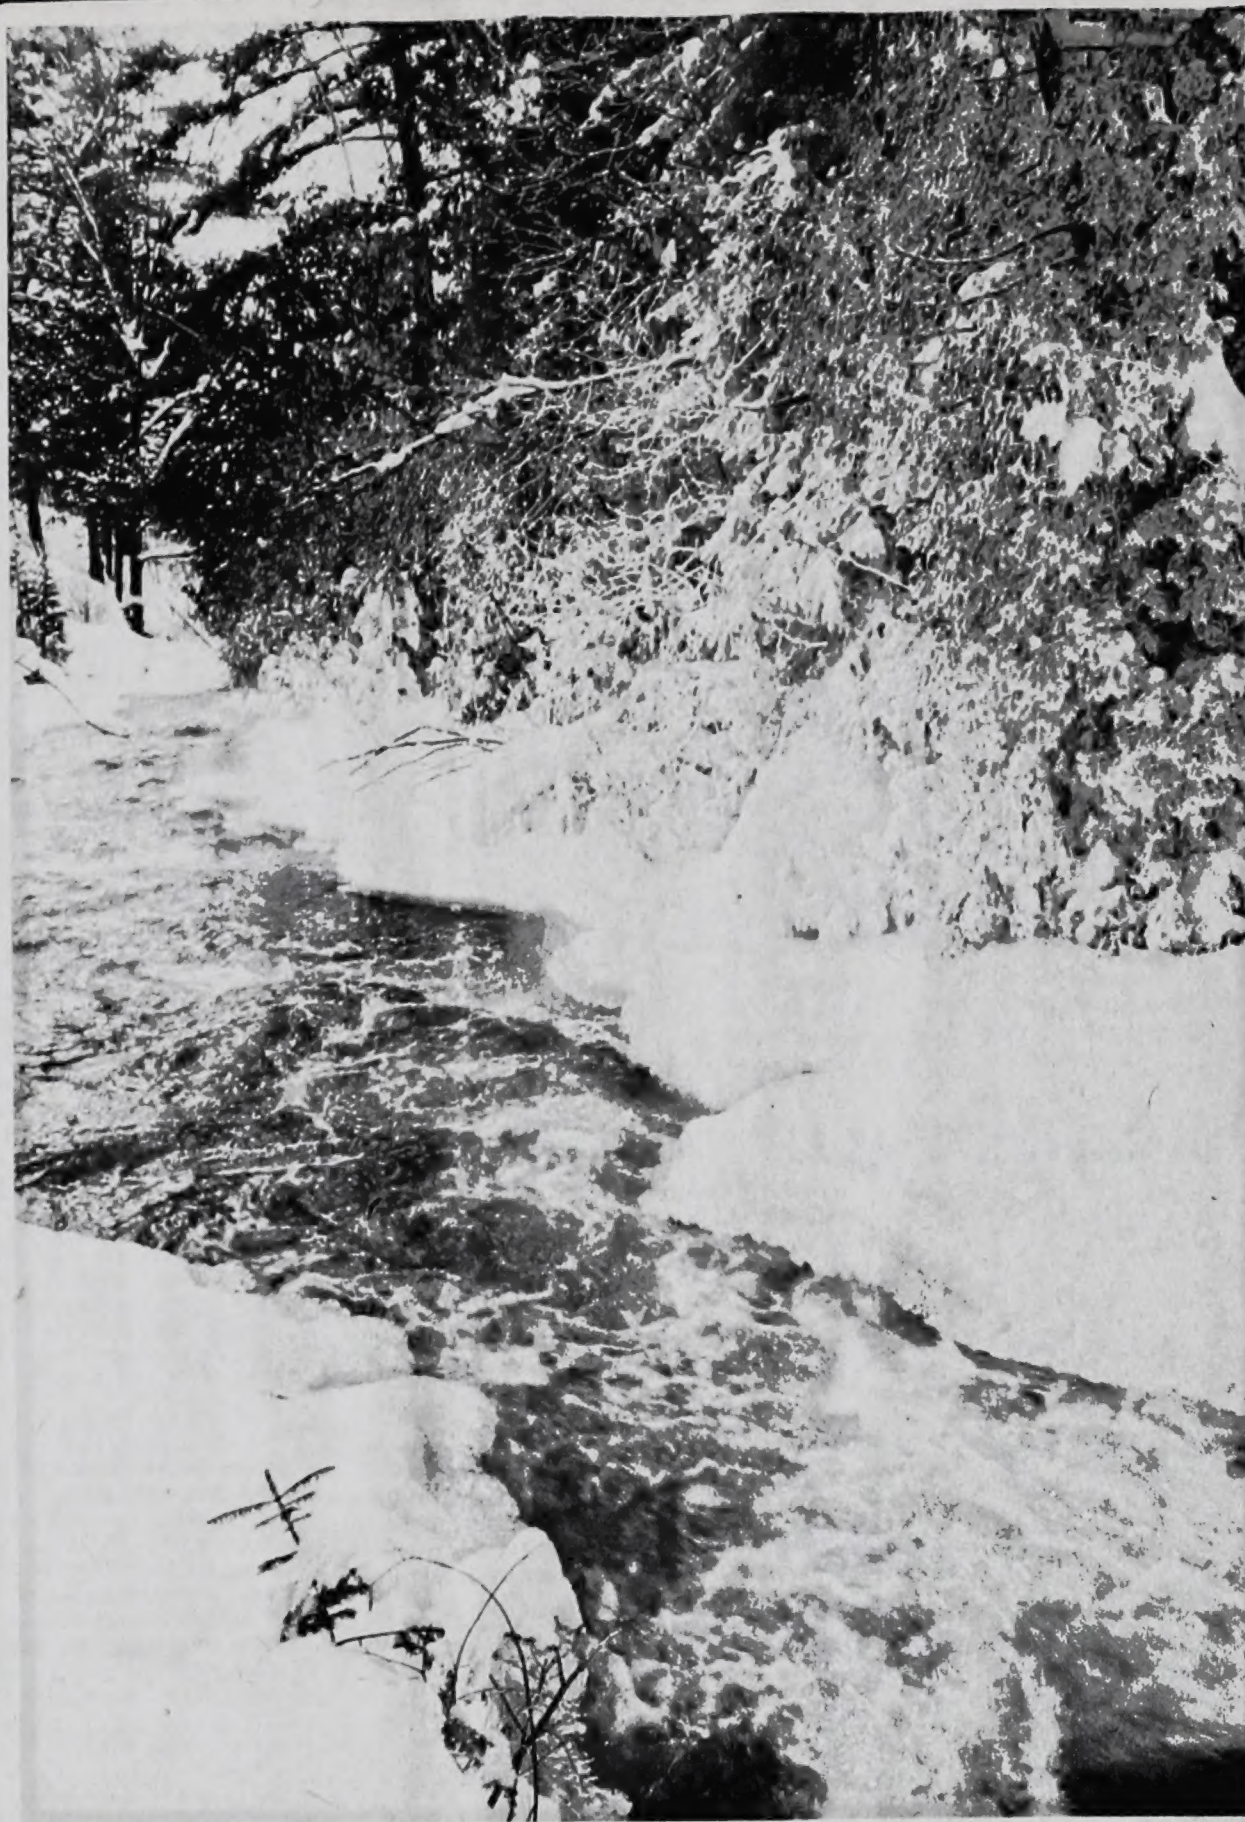

The study confirms what many people have long suspected -- that road oiling can present a serious threat to the overall quality of life in this area even when the oil meets PCB content guidelines set down by the environment ministry.

Under pressure from the county's anti-pollution committee, some area councils have included with their orders for road oil, the disclaimer "provided such oil contains no PCB's". But lacking the facilities and the knowledge to test the oil's contaminants, councils have no way of knowing whether or not the oil they spread on their unpaved roads is PCB free. Given the fact that PCB's are present in waste oil used throughout the province, it seems highly unlikely that a shipment sent to Haliburton County would be different from any other. And that means the only way council can ensure PCB's are not being washed into local lakes it to stop oiling altogether.

There seems little doubt that the problem is serious, even though it may not represent a direct threat to human health in the short term. In fact, the scientists found that concentrations of PCB's in bottom sediments of lakes with oiled roads around their shorelines are as high as concentrations found in industrialized areas of the province where the source of PCB's is known. That is distressing news indeed to those who think of Haliburton and Muskoka as pollution free havens to which they can escape.

There is one positive note amid the bleak details, however. The scientists found that the elevated levels of PCB's did not remain in the young fish and clams they tested if oiling was discontinued.

The implications are clear. Road oiling must be stopped, at least until it can be proven that the oil to be used contains no PCB's.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

Where - Oh - Where - are they! The village of Haliburton used to have them, lots of them! - Even in the summer!

Where did Scrooge take them - and why? I've got more of them around my seasonal residence, than the entire streets of Haliburton! Them? Decorative, festive, Christmas lights!

Yes, Haliburton hasn't a single string of Christmas lights on its streets - even the municipal office is just a cold, austere stone and brick structure in sharp contrast to the never-ending flashing intersection signal, on the corner. - The only colour to portray Christmas!

Why? Did the outgoing council decree this cut in expenditure? Does Haliburton believe its a sad year and want to portray this to visitors staying here or driving through at night on Hwy. 121?

I hope the incoming council corrects this mistake in public relations. Let's show a bright side - like it is in the summer when our vacationers flock in with their bright summer clothes and outrageously painted vans and vehicles.

Let's show it during the Christmas season and the snowmobiling period - Don't coloured lights reflect a cheerful atmosphere off clean, cold, white snow? Even business friends I had here stated that the town of Sunderland was more festive than Haliburton.

We need positive comments to attract visitors and business to the community, year round. Everyone seems to say 1981 will be gloomy! Let's make 1981 brighter!

Don Hillard,
Scarborough, Ontario

To the Editor:

Haliburton, you did it again! You brought in the new year - 1981 at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall with a real old-fashioned family type party!

Good danceable music, terrific, friendly crowd, refreshments reasonably priced, warm, nicely decorated hall - Ole Lang Syne at the "stroke of twelve", hands "intertwined in friendship" - and a buffet after midnight that would make the "$100 a couple types" in Toronto greed with envy! Every conceivable type of meat, bread, salads, cabbage rolls and desserts - all supplied as a "pot luck" dinner. Wow - Haliburtonians sure know how to do it up, remarked my table guests, Evelyn and Roy Fleming, newly arrived from North York, having just moved in to their new home on "519" overlooking Head Lake.

Yes - it was a real send-off to 1980 and a warm "hello" to 1981.

Sylvia Sisson and her committee are to be warmly thanked! Were you there? If not, mark it on your new 1981 calendar for December 31, 1981.

As others see it

It's rather amusing to see the provincial government lamenting the fact that Ontario citizens do not entirely support the idea of conserving energy or that there is, indeed, an immediate energy crisis.

We find it amusing, not because there is no real energy crisis, but because the government should expect public compliance in the face of all the nonsense that surrounds energy and its conservation.

It is not too difficult to understand why the average Ontario person believes energy conservation is something that can be put off until later.

The first reason is historic. The energy crisis crept up on the populace of Canada overnight and people still have difficulty believing those who should have expected it did not.

In addition, many of us still see electric bills that give us discounts for consuming more electrical energy, all of this in the face of cries for nuclear powerplants to meet our future needs.

Government incentives to help us conserve energy are half-hearted and almost appear to be a gesture only. This applies as well to research into alternate forms of energy that will help us maintain our standard of living. Gestures only. Take the "Conserve Energy" campaign on television right now. The jingle is amazing. It is such a happy, catchy tune that it makes you feel just great as you switch on lights all over the house.

One would have to be naive to say our non-renewable energy sources will last forever, but it is equally true that the average citizen has difficulty digesting the fact that they will run out in the immediate future, especially when conservation methods are so voluntary and nebulous and when research into renewable forms of energy is half-heartedly supported.

The paper, staff and resources required to conduct the survey telling us most people are not conserving and then informing every last soul of this fact might have been better spent on research or grants to help us conserve.

But then, that's the issue. The province's attitude towards energy is watered down by the fact employment is the immediate problem and energy is the secondary issue.

Until the government stops sidestepping the real issue of our declining energy resources in favor of jobs, we will never really address the problem.

And until that time, the public will snicker secretly at the idiocy of the whole question.

If you will look back on last winter you will remember that we had very few cold days, very little snow and in other words very little winter. Conditions for most of the winter last year were very bad for snowmobiling, cross country and downhill skiing, outdoor rinks or what have you. While these poor conditions prevailed we certainly heard the noise around the county on the bad effect it was having on the economy. There was no doubt we all suffered financially but some more than others, people such as marina's, motels, hotels, ski hill operators and others really felt the pinch and it eventually took its toll on the rest of us. This winter so far is the exact reverse as we are going through one of the coldest winters on record and we have plenty of snow. Last year most of us prayed for colder weather and more snow and this year we have it. So for you people who live outside of the Highlands why not treat yourself to a week or weekend vacation here in the Highlands of Haliburton where winter sports are at their best. Bring along the entire family.

We were just discussing the weather and what a difference a year makes. This is fine when you are talking about the weather but just think about those poor Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League who, believe it or not, are in a worse mess this year than they were last year at this time. It was just about a year ago now that they were in a turmoil and the fans were upset when they traded Lanny MacDonald, Joe Quenneville, Dave Hutchison, Tiger Williams, Walt McKechnie and more. We were told at the time that these trades would bring Toronto a winner. Look at the results. Once again things in a turmoil, Crozier fired, new coach coming in, fans upset with the Leaf's performance and the team sitting in about seventeenth place in a twenty-one team league. In my opinion don't blame it on the coach. It's a case that if you haven't got the horses you're not going to win the games. Correct me if I am wrong.

For the past few columns I must admit that I have been spreading some gloom and doom as far as the economy has been concerned here in Haliburton County. So far in the first two weeks in January, I am only too pleased to report that it looks from here that the local economy could be on the upswing. I have been talking to some local merchants, real estate brokers and others and in most cases they tell me that they are up considerably over the same two weeks a year ago. From what I have seen during these first two weeks I would have to agree that possibly the economy may be getting just a little bit better. We hope that this is also true in your business and that it will continue during the remainder of the year.

We wish to take this opportunity to welcome Rev. and Mrs. John James and their two children to Haliburton. The congregations that make up the Haliburton Pastoral Charge of the United Church namely Haliburton, Lochlin and Ingoldsby were overjoyed when the James family arrived in Haliburton as it has been four months since the three churches have had a regular minister. We welcome the James family to the community and hope that they will enjoy their stay with us.

I have to pass the tennis courts at Rotary Beach in Haliburton every day while going to work. Just recently I noticed that the nets are still up and here it is the middle of January. The question is what kind of a tennis club have we that will allow this expensive equipment to go to rot and ruin during the cold winter months. The only answer I have come up with and that is that the so-called tennis club must have lots of money or is it lack of interest on the part of the members?

Ace Clarke of Hamilton, Ontario will be the guest speaker when the Full Gospel Businessmen hold their monthly fellowship dinner at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton this coming Friday evening, January 16th at 7:00 p.m. Ace Clarke rode with the "Wild Ones" motorcycle club for 12 years. He was involved in drugs, was shot at three times (hit twice) and stabbed twice. He was jailed several times for various offences.

It's Winter Carnival time once again and the first one on the menu will be the Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival which is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January 30 - 31, February 1. We will have more details on the Carnival in next week's paper.

The Haliburton County Home Support Services have announced that they are planning to have volunteers from different parts of the county attend a seminar at PineStone Inn on Thursday, February 5 that will enable them to give our senior citizens information and assistance concerning their income tax problems. For further information phone 457-2941.

I have decided not to make any predictions for 1981. In other years I have had trouble batting 500 in this department so I think I'll leave it alone this year. There is a great many things I would like to see happen so we'll just have to wait and see what the new year will bring.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all those who submitted photos for our weekly Pic of the Past section during 1980. I would like to inform all of our readers that we have some really interesting pictures coming your way this coming year. We hope you enjoy them.

Mr. George Burley, a teacher at the Archie Stouffer school in Minden will be the guest speaker when the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen hold their monthly corporate Communion and breakfast at St. George's Anglican Church at Haliburton this coming Sunday, January 18 at 8 a.m. He will give a talk and show slides on his trip to the Holy Land.

Pic of the Past

This is the municipality of Monmouth's centennial year. (1881 - 1981) The celebrations will soon be starting and will continue all through this year. In keeping with the occasion the Monmouth Centennial Committee which, by the way, have been very active preparing for this big year ahead, have submitted this photo showing some of the Wilberforce miners working at the Tomkin, Du Pont Graphite Co. mine at Wilberforce in the year 1913. This mining company was owned by the Diamond Graphite Company who operated the mill right up until the first world war started, shipping graphite to Germany. Following the war the company moved to the United States and the men who had been working in the graphite mine in Wilberforce were given first chance at the jobs in the U.S.A.

Bill Smiley

It's difficult to peer ahead into 1981 with wild enthusiasm. Unless you live in Alberta, where the taxes are low and the living is high. Inflation is almost guaranteed to increase from 10 to 15 per cent. Our Prime Minister in his infinite wisdom, had some advice for poor people and pensioners who dread such a forecast.

In effect, he said if they can't afford bread, let them eat cake. The last person who uttered those sentiments wound up with her head in a basket. Yes, Mr. Trudeau has much in common with Marie Antoinette, and is just about as close to the people.

Peace and goodwill seem like a hopeless cause for the coming year. The Russians are still in Afghanistan, keeping the peace. The situation in Poland, as I write, is very dicey. The Middle East is on the verge of catching fire, literally and figuratively. There are wars and rumors of wars around the globe.

And our country is now exactly in glowing health, politically, although that's nothing new. Barely has Rene Levesque had his ears pinned back when out of the West gallops, not young Lochlinvar, but fairly serious threats of separation from Canada, airily dismissed by our P.M. as "hysteria".

It's anything but. If everybody west of Ontario went along with it, the West would have one of the biggest countries in the world, with a small population, great resources. And it's about time Ottawa, and Ontario, the fat cat of Canada since confederation, did more than pooh-pooh the idea.

Meanwhile, let's get back to the trivia that is so much more important to the individual. It's still a gloomy outlook.

Young people, unless they have a double income or inherited wealth, might as well forget about buying a house, with mortgage rates so high that even the Lord can smell something rotten in the state of our economy.

Donald McEachen, a wealthy bachelor who happens to be Minister of Finance, is so eager to de-index our income tax that he's dancing about like a kid who has to go to the bathroom. If he were allowed to get away with it, no matter how hard you worked, or how bright you were, your income would melt like a snowball in you-know-where.

Pollution and acid rain are attacking this beautiful country like the bubonic plague, while government talks tough and does nothing, and industrialists, in sincere surprise ask, "What pollution?" while our lakes are killed of fish, our soil is poisoned, and our health is threatened.

These may seem pretty gloomy thoughts, but there are even more horrible prospects for 1981. Every one of us is going to be one year older, and not one white better.

That may be all very well for a kid of 18 who wants to become 19 so he can drink legally. But for many of us, all it means is more aches and pains, new glasses, new teeth, and one step closer to the grave.

Many of us will lose friends and relatives to that old Grim Reaper, and many will desert the sports page or the comics for the obituary columns.

We'll probably have a dreadful winter, a late spring, a short wet, cool summer, and another lousy fall, like that of 1980. I can feel it in my bones, especially the middle toe-bone of my left foot, upon which I dropped the mickey.

Unless the feds go on priming the pump with our taxes, gas and oil prices will soar, creating dreadful hardships, such as having to wear a sweater in the house, or walk to work.

Now, everything I've said is true, and you know it. But I can just hear you saying: "What's wrong with Smiley? Who does he think he is? Cassandra? He's getting into his dotage, and should be put away in an old people's home."

And you'd be quite right.

Nobody believed Cassandra either, and it was a good thing. If they'd believed her, the fall of Troy would never have taken place, the great Greek tragedians would have had no material, and instead of working like trojans, we'd probably be working for Trojans.

But inside, I don't feel any of that gloom and doom I've been spouting. I feel like a boy. Rather an old boy, but a boy, nonetheless.

Despite our economic situation, high taxes, inflation on both port and starboard bows, war and violence our everyday diet, we'll survive, and probably have as good a year as we ever had.

We still have one of the highest living standards in the world. We are still a rich country, comparatively. We still have a sturdy independent nation of individuals. Our inflation rate is no worse than most countries, better than many.

So, if you can't buy a house, as Trudeau would say, buy a condominium. If you can't afford the supermarket prices, get out and cultivate your own garden. If you can't afford gas, walk. If you can't afford fuel, drop dead. It'll be warm enough where you go.

When I think of what Canadian pioneers faced, every new year, I just laugh at the whining of modern Canadians, one of the spoiled nations in the world.

Personally, I'm going to have a great 1981, even if I can't afford teeth and have to gum my grub, have to get around on crutches. And the same to you.

Old age pensioners must reapply for supplement

More than 390,000 Old Age Security pensioners in Ontario, who have been receiving Health and Welfare Canada's Guaranteed Income Supplement are being urged to reapply for the benefit as soon as possible in order to continue receiving it.

According to W. A. Wright, Assistant Director General of the program, the department mailed the application forms to the recipients at the end of December. "Most of the people should have them by now," he said.

The mailing consists of an application, an information sheet and a self-addressed return envelope.

"We urge recipients to return the applications at the earliest possible moment in order that they be processed in time to avoid interruption of payments," Wright added.

The G.I.S. program requires annual reapplication by recipients because of the possible change in income. Recipients whose income has decreased will receive larger payments while those whose income has increased will receive a reduced rate. Recipients who fail to reapply will lose the benefit.

Hydro to reduce voltage

Ontario Hydro will conduct a routine voltage reduction test on Tuesday, January 20.

Voltage on the Ontario electrical grid will be cut by 5 per cent that day for two one-hour periods: from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. and again from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

A voltage cut is simply a lowering of the pressure at which power is relayed from the generating station to the customer, and for most customers it will be imperceptible.

The test is conducted twice a year, in January and July, and is meant to ensure that in an emergency, Hydro could prevent a power interruption in this way.

Council calls for open houses in Toronto area

The Ministry of Revenue has been asked to hold an open house in the Toronto area to explain equalized assessments to Haliburton County cottagers.

At its December meeting, Haliburton County council passed a motion asking that at least one open house be held in the Toronto area to supplement those scheduled for next week in a number of county municipalities.

Purpose of the open houses is to give property owners a chance to discuss the new assessment equalization program with officials of the regional assessment office.

But many area cottagers are expected to be unable to attend the meetings due to timing, weather conditions or both. Council has therefore called on revenue minister Lorne Maeck to schedule an additional open house later in the year when driving conditions should be better.

So far there has been no response from Queen's Park.

Creighton is at it Again!

On a regular basis Creighton Feir, who writes a column in this paper, has been harping on the fact that this county needs some form of industry other than tourism to make it viable. He suggests that the Chamber and many others are apparently blind to this and that we should be doing something about it.

As a result of these columns the Economic Development Commission invited Mr. Feir as of last May, to attend a meeting and head up a Task Force of individuals of his own choosing to provide concrete suggestions to the commission on how some of his concerns could be addressed. To date, he has not accepted this invitation and yet he continues to say others are not doing anything. To suggest that anyone in this county is not concerned with industrial development is ridiculous. It is not, however, a simple matter of going out and placing an order for a nice "clean, non-polluting industry" to set up shop here. There is an incredible amount of work going on by both the commission and individual municipalities to encourage development but it is not an easy task. They may or may not be successful, but the effort is certainly being made and they are all quite receptive to hear any constructive suggestions that anyone may have.

Mr. Feir's comment about a "two month tourist season" would also suggest that he is just not paying attention. One restaurant owner said last week that the two weeks surrounding Christmas and New Year's were as busy as any that he experienced last summer. Winter business here is developing each year as facilities and attractions are created and improved. Spring and fall have not developed as well as anticipated and it will take a major attraction such as the proposed Steam Train to improve the potential in those seasons.

The Ministry of Industry and Tourism certainly recognizes that there is a great potential in winter tourism. Anyone who purchased the weekend Star last week will have received the colourful "Yours to Discover" section that is aimed strictly at promoting winter in places such as the Highlands. Our winter carnivals are listed in this promotional piece and unfortunately the date shown for Minden is incorrect. This was due to the error in the information received by the Chamber last August that was in turn submitted to the ministry. Corrected information was since sent out but too late for publications such as this. This is a good example of why the Chamber needs accurate information on coming events well in advance. The deadline for summer dates is the end of February.

It may not be ideal to have our economy so heavily related to tourism, but as long as it is, we would do well to realize it and make the best of it. The search will continue for other avenues to provide employment and economic benefit to the people of the county, and in the meantime we should welcome every opportunity to bring visitors here and expand on the one major industry that is already here - tourism.

New Membership Fees

At a Board of Directors meeting last week the Chamber's membership fee schedule was revised and updated. In an attempt to simplify the structure a number of categories were eliminated and included with others. It has been three years since the fees have been adjusted so it is natural to expect a fairly substantial increase in the fees since they had fallen behind the rest of the budget.

The new fees come into effect immediately and will be reflected in all new memberships or any that come due from this time forward. We hope you will agree that in inflationary times your membership in the Chamber increases in value along with everything else.

Alcide Carpenter Pee Wee Tournament Features Close Competition

One of the notable features of the Alcide Carpenter Tournament which just concluded in Haliburton Village this past weekend was the evenly matched teams that participated. Right from the opening day on Friday most games were decided by a one or two goal difference and three games required a "shoot-off" to declare a winner. This requires selected players to take "penalty shots" at the opposition net to decide a winner when a game has ended in a tie. On Sunday, the final day, all the games are championship games. An "A" and "B" champion is declared in both championship sides and then the "A" and "B" winners play off for a grand championship. Of these six games, all but one had only a one goal difference at the conclusion. No one could have asked for more exciting action.

The Haliburton Pee Wee team were in the consolation series after losing their first game to Oak Ridges. They then defeated Leaside and Georgetown allowing only one goal against them in each game and took the "B" consolation championship. They then put on a valiant effort against Newmarket, winner of the "A" consolation in the consolation grand championship game. They were defeated 2 to 1 but local supporters were just proud of the team effort they had just witnessed and in particular the net minding acrobatics of Mike McLean.

On the championship side Willowdale Boys Club won their first game against Oshawa by a slim 1 - 0 margin and went on to defeat Royal York and Grand Ravine to win the "A" championship and Oro, the "B" champions to win the grand championship.

A recent article in the Toronto Star quotes the Willowdale team as choosing the Haliburton Tournament over one in Boston and from the outcome it would appear to be a wise choice on their part.

The grand championship trophy is the Alcide Carpenter Memorial Trophy and the consolation

Willowdale wins title in Alcide Carpentier tourney

by Sue Cooper
Well-played hockey games and good sportsmanship were the highlights of the Alcide Carpentier Pee Wee tournament in Haliburton on the weekend. Willowdale advanced to be the grand champions while Newmarket defeated Haliburton in the final game to become the grand consolation champions. Play started Friday afternoon in the 'A' round as Royal York defeated Newmarket 5-2. Willowdale marked up their first win of the tournament as the team edged Oshawa Scotts 1-0. Hillcrest also managed a one-goal margin over its competitor Richmond Hill and on Saturday the first round in the 'A' group finished as Grand Ravine beat Amherst, New York, 2-1.

Also on Friday, Haliburton was sent into the 'B' consolation round early as the team was blanked by Oak Ridge with a two-goal lead. Excitement lasted throughout the Northminster and Leaside competition as the game ended in a shoot-off to break the 3-3 tie. Players from each team were allowed to take penalty shots on their opponent's goalie until the tie was broken. Northminster won 4-3. To round up Friday night's action, Minden was soundly defeated by Oro 5-0. The last game in the 'B' group's first round play saw Ernestown defeat Georgetown 7-5 early Saturday morning.

On Saturday, Haliburton moved into the consolation round as it trounced Leaside 7-1. Haliburton came out with a strong first period with the assistance of Chris Harrison at the 6:13 mark. A little over a minute later, Cory McKnight, with the aid of Tran LaRue, put another goal in Leaside's net. With the adrenalin flowing, Bannister came back only 11 seconds later to widen Haliburton's lead to three goals. He was assisted by Peter Goulet.

As Haliburton went into the second period with a three-goal lead, LaRue and Bannister teamed up to score at the 3:58 mark.

With the Haliburton scoring machine moving ahead, Ian Cooper scored from LaRue at 6:30 into the second period to widen Haliburton's lead to five goals.

The second period ended with five unanswered goals of the home team and they kept chalking them up in the third. At 3:44 LaRue scored from Darryl Tunall and Cooper and only 12 seconds later, LaRue and Tunall scored again.

Leaside got its lone goal of the game at the 8:56 mark.

The final score was Haliburton 7-1 over Leaside.

In the 'B' consolation second round play, Minden met up with Georgetown, but was eliminated from the competition 3-1.

Play was tight in the first period with the only goal being scored by Georgetown with only 55 seconds remaining. And they came back in the second period to put the puck in the net at the last moment as Georgetown scored with only one second remaining.

Minden got its first and only goal in the third period on a power play from Gord Wood and Tom MacLeod. Georgetown rounded out its scoring at 7:13 of the last period.

Minden did not receive a single penalty throughout the game.

Georgetown then went on to meet Haliburton but the home team edged them out 2-1.

Competition was keen throughout the first period as both teams were kept scoreless although they skated out three power plays.

Only 1:42 into the second period, Haliburton scored from Tran LaRue and Ian Cooper. And those two backed it up with another goal at 6:13. With a two-goal lead, Haliburton advanced into the last period of the 'B' consolation championship fairly confident of victory. As the third period wore on and Haliburton remained unpenalized, it appeared they might blank their opponents.

But at 8:31 Georgetown scored its only goal of the game.

Haliburton would then advance to the grand consolation championship match.

In the second round of 'A' consolation play, Newmarket defeated the Oshawa Scotts 2-1 in a shoot-off. Richmond Hill also gained a spot in the 'A' consolation championship match when the boys won 4-2 against Amherst.

In the 'A' consolation championship, Newmarket again eked out a win by beating Richmond Hill 2-1.

Then, Haliburton met

Newmarket in the grand consolation championship as the visitors won 2-1.

Haliburton took the lead in the second period as Ian Cooper scored unassisted at 7:23.

Early in the third period Newmarket tied the game at one goal each and followed it up with the winning goal scored at 5:39 on a power play. Newmarket was not penalized during the game while Haliburton received four minutes in penalties, both handed out to captain Cory McKnight.

In 'A' championship play, Willowdale defeated Royal York 5-2, while Grand Ravine downed Hillcrest 3-2 in a shoot-off.

Willowdale then took the 'A' championship match away from Grand Ravine in a close 2-1 victory.

In 'B' championship play, Oak Ridge edged out Northminster 2-1 while Oro devastated Ernestown 7-2. Oro took the 'B' championship.

Danish boys under age limit

Minden blasts Danish team

Minden's Midget team scored 11 goals in an exhibition game against a team from Denmark last Tuesday while the visitors were completely shut out.

The Denmark squad, on a six game exhibition tour of Ontario, was billed as a Midget team, but in fact, their age would have made them Bantams under OMHA regulations, a fact which in no small measure accounted for the one-sided score.

The visiting team recorded only one victory in their six game schedule.

A large crowd was on hand at the Minden arena to view the contest.

In the first period, Minden got off the mark early as Eldon Bull scored unassisted at 2:03.

For the next eight minutes the play remained fairly even, but then Minden opened up and there was little that Denmark could do to stop the scoring spree.

Before the game, Minden minor hockey sponsored a dinner for players, coaches and government officials. Master of ceremonies for the evening was MP Bill Scott who presented the visiting team with Canadian flag pins.

MPP John Eakins was caught in a snowstorm in Toronto and unable to attend, but sent along pins for the visitors as well.

Rob Young and Lyle McKnight were present on behalf of the Minden Kinsmen Club and also made a presentation to the team.

Minor hockey supplied hospitality bags for the Danish youngsters containing items donated by local businesses and organizations, including maps and pins from the Chamber of Commerce, bags from the OPP, penants from the Pine Shop and calendars from Don Hall.

Special pins made for the game were Minden's part of the traditional gift exchange between the teams before the opening face-off.

HHSES plays off in United States annual floor hockey tourney

by Roy Scott

On December 26 three teams travelled from Haliburton to Battle Creek, Michigan, U.S.A. to participate in the Harper Creek Invitational Floor Hockey Tournament. The junior girls, junior boys and intermediate girls played in competition against teams from Battle Creek, Michigan; Lansing, Michigan; Lima, Ohio, Windsor, Agincourt and White Haven, Ontario.

This was the first time for the junior girls to be in competition and they did well, winning two of their five games. Scores were: Haliburton 2, Springfield 1; Free-mont 2, Haliburton 0; Lansing 7, Haliburton 3; Springfield 5, Haliburton 1; and Haliburton 7, Lima 2.

The junior boys placed third out of 12 participating teams and for their efforts received a team trophy and individual medallions. Scores in their games were: Haliburton 6, Battle Creek 3; Haliburton 6, Windsor 3; White Haven 2, Haliburton 0; Agincourt 3, Haliburton 2; and Haliburton 8, Battle Creek 2.

The intermediate girls also played extremely well, winning three of their five games and as an added reward for their fine work and sportsmanlike behaviour won the Intermediate Sportsmanship Trophy and each girl received a sportsmanship certificate. Scores were: Haliburton 3, Lansing 1; Battle Creek 7, Haliburton 1; Windsor 7, Haliburton 1; Haliburton 4, White Haven 2; Haliburton 7, White Haven 2.

The boys and girls enjoyed their stay with the families of the Harper Creek and Battle Creek area and in speaking with many of the families they certainly enjoyed having our boys and girls.

A thank you goes to the parents who travelled to Battle Creek with the team. Their attendance and support was appreciated by the players and coaches.

The biggest thank you of all goes to the people of Haliburton County who gave financial support through a skate-a-thon which made this whole trip possible.

On Private Property

It is apparent that some snowmobilers are still ignorant of the trespass laws of this province or else they have chosen to deliberately flout them. Their unauthorized use of private property, including roadways, lanes, and even snowmobile trails, can severely hamper a snowmobile club's efforts to maintain permanent public routes across such properties.

Snowmobilers must realize that every snowmobile track does not signify a public trail. In general, where a trail shows no evidence of regular maintenance, or is not marked as a snowmobile trail, it should be assumed that it is not open to the general public. Frequently such tracks branch off from public routes and are there solely to serve the landowner's purposes. A popular and very important link in the HCSCA trail system was all but lost this year due to unauthorized use of a trapper's trail which led off from the groomed public route. Too many snowmobilers were wont to turn their machines onto every track they find regardless of legality or probable consequences. Invariably, the local club takes the brunt of the property owner's displeasure.

In another instance a landowner with extensive lake-shore property is understandably upset by the indiscriminate use of his land and private road to gain access to the lake while he permits the club to maintain a public trail across his place a few hundred yards away. He has issued fair warning that unless these errant snowmobilers learn to stay on the trail he will be out with pad and pen recording registration numbers. Since his property is posted, it is very likely that a charge under the Trespass Act would bring a conviction. The fine is now $1,000.

In due time we may see adequate signage along the trails to clearly define private land and non-public trail intersections. Such a sign project will be a very expensive undertaking for a club with an extensive trail system. Don't expect them to appear overnight. Meanwhile it behooves every snowmobiler to familiarize himself with the laws governing his sport and to operate his machine with a full measure of common-sense. The permanency of our trails depends upon it!

Paudash Progress
My wife and I attended the Paudash Trail Blazers' general meeting, held in the Sword Motel in Bancroft on January 10, and were much impressed by the enthusiasm and progressive spirit of that snowmobile club. Leadership, cooperation and community seem to be the passwords which are carrying the club to the heights of success.

And while the club has attained its aims up to the present it is not about to rest on its laurels. New goals are being set, some of these as far as ten years down the road. The keyword is expansion. Expansion of membership, well beyond the 104 families currently enrolled. Expansion of community endeavor, with a more visible presence not only in the Cardiff-Bancroft area but in the surrounding communities as well. And expansion, too, of its trail network along with increasing member activities on its trails.

We heard, for example, of the club's involvement with Monmouth's Minor Hockey Association. In this cooperative fund-raising endeavor, the snowmobile club will provide the riders and will man the check-points for a monster snowmobile rally which will be topped off with a dinner and dance in the Harcourt Community Hall. Watch for more details on this event later. All Snowmobilers who took part in, and enjoyed, any of the Wilberforce rallies of a few years back should mark February 28 on their calendars now. This is a pledge ride, similar to Snowarama, with an entry fee of $5 which includes the dinner but not the dance.

The club has scheduled a number of "pleasure trips" for its members and their friends, some short rides, some long, some split events with an easier route selected for the ladies and novices. Each of these terminates at a member's home or cottage where refreshments and hospitality will be served up in ample measure. And during Snowmobile Safety Week, February 8 to 14, special events are being planned which will emphasize safety in snowmobile operation.

In the realm of trail expansion, the Paudash Trail Blazers are now looking towards Gooderham, for a second connection with the MNR Five Point System, and to the East of Baptiste Lake for a connection with the McClure Trail. At present the club maintains a link through Harcourt to the Peterson and connects via the Rathburn Trail to the Five Points. The new proposed routes would effect two extremely practical loops which would greatly enhance the riding opportunities of the region.

In the hospitality department, the club has issued this year to each of its member families a red cardboard trail marker bearing the Trail Blazers insignia for placement in the door or window of home or cottage. There is one in our window. It's a simple invitation to drop in and say "Hi", to get directions if you're lost on the trails, to warm your toes and fingers if you're suffering from the cold. And it doesn't really matter if you're not a member of the club, after your visit you probably will be.

I hope you're all holding to your New Year's resolutions! As for me, I haven't even started on mine yet. Starting a diet was one of them but I overbake before Xmas and you just can't waste it, can you? Then Bill and I got ourselves invited to Win and Bill Wilson's house for Sunday evening dinner and that "Bill" does cook far too much! Of course, having our 2nd Xmas January 18 isn't helping matters much either, but after that, you watch out! Intentions are good anyway.

Lucky winners of the Norland Firemen's hockey pool December 27 was Bernard Greer and on January 3 it was Denise Magee, both of Norland. I'm still getting word of people on the sick list with that flu bug: Dolly LeCraw and Bill Moss, both of Norland.

Don't forget the Kinmount and District Horticultural Society annual meeting, pot luck supper and penny table, to be held Wednesday, January 28 at 6 p.m. at the Legion Hall in Kinmount. The folks would love to see a really great turnout and you are asked to please bring your own dishes along with your pot luck donation. It should make for a really pleasant evening and you'll certainly learn lots of how our Horticultural Society is run. They sure do a great job around our town in the spring and summer and it's there for all to enjoy.

Our postmistress, Jane Rolfe, along with other members of the family, have had an enjoyable three week's visit with sister Yvonne Van Zeyl, from Holland.

The January 7 eucure results at Galway Hall were: ladies' high, Jo Davidson; ladies' low, Flo Drinkle; men's high, Ken Stuart; men's low, Frank Franzen; most lone hands, Ida Young. Gifts were donated by Dorothy Stuart.

There will be a first aid course available soon, we hope, to be held at the Galway Hall. It will be an eight-week course with a cost of $16.50 and worth every penny when you suddenly discover you knew what to do when the disaster struck. When I have more information regarding the course I'll see to it that you know of it. In the meantime you could give John Hickey a call at 488-2256 for further news of this most worthy event. Get involved, it may be the saving of your own life.

Happy belated birthdays this past week go out to Mrs. McGrath, her 85th on January 9, also to Lorrie Moss on the 9th and Jane Rolfe on the 8th, as well, to Andy Franzen.

On Mrs. McGrath's big day a dozen or so of her close friends and neighbours dropped by in the afternoon to help her celebrate for a few hours, with a lovely birthday cake and lunch and some very pleasant visiting. Father Brooks was present along with ladies from Kinmount, Galway and Irondale.

By the way, if you have anything you'd like to donate towards the horticultural penny table at the Legion on January 28, it would be very much appreciated and will be accepted by Mary Hartin, Norma Hamilton or any of the horticultural members.

Public skating started once again on Friday, January 9 at the Kinmount arena. To all of you fans and those who should be: prices are very reasonable at 25 cents per child, 50 cents for students and $1.00 for adults. Time: Fridays 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, 2 to 4 p.m. Come out and "get into it". To anyone wishing to rent the rink for games of broomball there's a charge of $8 per hour and to anyone else wishing to rent the rink it would be $15 per hour. This could be during the week or Saturday nights, just so long as it does not run into the time of public skating hours. Why not start your own hockey team? Ballard needs help!

Here's the recipe I promised from the Hr. Grace book. This one is called Gelatin Poke Cake. 1 - 2 layer pkg. white cake mix, 1 pkg. Jello vanilla pudding mix, 4 eggs, 1 cup water, 1/2 cup oil, 1 pkg. raspberry jelly powder. Combine first 5 ingredients in large mixing bowl; blend, then beat at medium speed 2 minutes. Bake in greased flour 13" x 9" pan at 350 degrees 40 - 45 minutes; do not underbake. Cook in pan 15 minutes. Dissolve jelly as directed on package. Poke holes in cake with fork and pour warm jelly over it. Chill 4 hours. Spread with prepared Dream Whip and serve.

The residents enjoyed the holiday season visiting with their families and friends. Some went to share Christmas with their families, but the majority stayed to celebrate Christmas at Hyland Crest. A dinner prepared by Mark Schell and his kitchen staff was served in the auditorium. The tables were decorated with lovely festive serviette holders and centrepieces which were made by the ladies at crafts. Of course, Santa Claus and his elves visited in the morning passing out gifts and kisses to everyone. Special thanks to Wayne Cox, who was our very own Santa.

The New Year started out with our regular activities. We had our fun and fitness program on Monday morning and crafts later in the afternoon. In the evening, several people went to the auditorium to watch the movies. "50 Years Later" told us the history of the railroad which runs from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island. Canadian National now has 100,000 freight cars running through Canada and United States. Westerners depend on the railway to ship their grain and farm products. The development of the railway has opened up many new hopes for our people.

The book titled Railroad Recollection by Charles G. Heels is now available at Dettman's Store in Kinmount. It's all about trains and stations of the old days. And very, very interesting. More of that later.

It was a very nice way to end the week and the residents will look forward to their next visit.

Chatting with Irene by Irene Moore

Here we are still sitting in a deep freeze climate. It is getting so that I hate to look out to see what the temperature is when I get up. At least the sun shines each day and it hasn't been snowing much. I had a phone call from number 1 son yesterday afternoon to bid us farewell for several months as his ship sailed Monday morning for down South America way. One thing they mentioned while on the phone was that Nova Scotia was in the midst of a blizzard. No cars were moving and drifts were three feet high in places, so he had to catch a bus back to Halifax. When I asked would the buses run I was told they were all that would be on the road except for the plows ahead of them. One comment gave me a good laugh for number 1 son said, "This is it. The weather has finally driven me to sea, after three blizzards I'm getting out of here and going

This is to be a memorable year for Monmouth as we celebrate the centennial of our township and look back to the first settlers of this section of Haliburton County. Many descendants of these hardy folk are still thriving on the original land grants. Through the year we will find out more about them.

We were sorry to hear of the passing of Charles Bowen who was a life-time resident of Haliburton County. Born in Highland Grove he grew up on the homestead farm of his parents, George and Azalea Bowen. He learned to be industrious and thrifty. He later married Vivian Huston and sometime in the twenties they came to Wilberforce and raised a family of five. Charlie was known as a quiet, good-tempered man who worked diligently in the lumber camps and for the Wilberforce Veneer Company. He took pride in a fine garden and was an important member of the Orange Lodge. He retired from work some years ago and spent his final years with his wife at Extensicare in Haliburton.

We had a lovely little newcomer to our village. Crystal Lynn was born on December 28 at the Peterborough Civic Hospital. She weighed 9 lbs. 5 oz. and is the daughter of happy parents Anne and Jimmy Alden. Proud grandparents are Ruby and Harold Alden.

A few weeks ago we came across an old newspaper clipping from an English magazine that contained the story of Sylvia Bidgood and the men and women who came for miles to help with the pattering treatment that was to make supple the rigid limbs of the little child. The article was written by Monica Dickens, noted authoress, who came to Wilberforce to observe and praise the dedication of the local people and boundless faith of the mother, Rita Bidgood. Sylvia had cerebral palsy and with the help she was given was able to advance from an almost vegetable being to an energetic, loving little girl.

January 17 begins a week-end of T.V. broadcasting by well-known television personalities of Canada and the U.S. in aid of cerebral palsy victims. For the first time the areas of Haliburton, Gooderham, Tory Hill, Wilberforce, Harcourt and Highland Grove will be organized with manned telephones so that donations may be called in for this worthy cause.

Monies donated will be forwarded to Peterborough. It is to be hoped that enough will be collected to support plans for a Participation House for the use of persons afflicted with this disease and for other handicapped young adults. In Peterborough at this time there is an apartment house with room for 15 chair users. The Participation House is a much needed addition.

The Wilberforce Veneer Company have kindly turned over the use of their telephones and office for the weekend telethon. Requests for volunteers to man the phones have met with good response. Members of the South Algonquin Kinsmen Club, local firemen and many citizens are ready to take calls. Anyone wishing to help in this way and can spare an hour of their time please call Roberta Walsh at 448-2185. The people of this county are known for their warm-hearted generosity and a good response to the appeal is expected this coming week-end. Pledge calls for January 17 begin at 7 p.m. and continue until Sunday night, January 18 at 7 p.m. Save a long distance call. Phone Wilberforce. Advance pledges can be called in to Roberta Walsh.

January 17 is the date that the big fish derby takes place. Sponsored by the Legionnaires you will find registration starting at 8 a.m. at the Legion Hall. The fee of $5.00 takes care of the registration and attendance at the Hoot-nanny being held in the evening. There will be plenty of good food on hand and great prizes for the winners.

On Friday evening January 16 there will be a craft class for children held in the library basement. Starts at 7 p.m. Possibly films will also be shown.

Blame the continuous cold weather and the resulting frozen pipes for closing the laundromat. Dan Mathews is sorry about this but until spring thaw there will be no service to the public from this source.

A few hockey scores for our energetic teams. January 5, Schwanndt Home Care 5, B.B.L. 3; January 7, Schwanndt H.C. 4, Apsley 2 and January 10 - Schwanndt H.C. 5, Broadworth 2. Pee Wee games. Novice games: January 10, Scotia Bank 1, Polatsky 2. Atoms: January 10, Wilberforce Veneer 12, Superior 2. Bantams - Ridgeview Restaurant 12, Pharmacy 1.

Stanhope Notes

by Alex Stevenson

Some Stanhope residents have remarked about a very pleasant activity by some of Stanhope's young people during the recent Christmas season. It seems that some of the young citizens called upon seniors in their neighbourhood to extend a gift and a seasonal greeting. This evidence of thoughtfulness was much appreciated by the recipients and brought forth the comment that there is so much that is fine about our young people. This is very true in spite of the occasional lemon we hear so much about. We know of one very embarrassed senior couple who were visited by some young people in their area who began singing Christmas carols. The man of the house went to the door to greet the young carollers but could not get it open because of ice at the bottom of the storm door. Calls through the door asking the singers to come to the back door were unheard by them. At this point the lady of the house went to the window and waved towards the back door. Unfortunately the children misunderstood the signal, and apparently thinking they were being ordered off the verandah immediately departed. The people involved hope the young singers will see this and return for a friendly visit.

Recent New Year's dances in the township proved to be thoroughly enjoyable events and, as becomes Stanhope, provided the attendants with a happy evening. The dance at the community hall, sponsored by Mrs. Ann Barker, also provided funds for a number of worthwhile purposes. Ann informs us that the proceeds enabled her to make a donation of $700 to the Happy Gang Bus Fund at Extensicare, while $50 will be given to the Recreation Committee and another $100 will be donated to the Volunteer Firemen's Association to meet the expenses of the annual Christmas party for the children and senior citizens. In addition the Community Hall Committee will receive a donation together with the rental for the hall. This effort by Ann deserves much credit, particularly in view of the fact that it was almost a solo attempt. It is our understanding that Ann is hoping to support the idea of Stanhope hospitality by having a dance perhaps in April and then a fall dance later in August, with proceeds after expenses going to worthwhile community undertakings. We think the idea has plenty of merit and is deserving of support. It should be mentioned that Ann put so much time and work into the preparation for the recent dance that the expenses were kept to a minimum with no personal remuneration, and it is of further interest to know that some of our seasonal residents from some distance away enjoy coming to Stanhope for these events.

At this writing most Stanhope property owners will have received their new Notice of Assessment, bringing with it whatever good or bad tidings can be gotten from a provincially sponsored intrusion into our lives. The program may have commendable features but we find much to object to in the method of its introduction. It should be remembered that Equalized Assessment is a product of the Government of Ontario via the Ministry of Revenue for Ontario, and this same government has, over the past few years seen fit to delay the implementation of the scheme for what appeared to be sound political pre-election reasons. Now, after all this delay, Stanhope property owners receive on the sixth of January an Assessment notice accompanied by the advice that they have until January 10 or 12 to meet with representatives of Ministry of Revenue to have any questions answered. The timing of the mailing and of the meeting gives property owners little time for study or for comparison with similar properties to get some idea of the fairness of the assessment, or of the efficiency of the market value assessment procedure. This seems like undue haste in view of the convenient political dawdling by the government in recent years. The ministry notice emphasizes that your council by resolution on November 12, 1980 requested the implementation of the Equalized Assessment. At an earlier meeting between council and ministry representatives, interested citizens got the clear impression that whether council went along or not, implementation of the scheme was inevitable. We think the statement re the council resolution was just an effort to get the provincial government off the hook. The time element, in our opinion, is completely unfair to the seasonal residents who are such a large part of Stanhope ratepayers and provide such a big share of the assessment. How they can be expected to be on hand with intelligent questions on such short notice is beyond our comprehension, and the whole procedure, timewise, almost tramples on justice. Democracy is not being served when measures dealing with taxation are so handled that they are not fully and adequately exposed to public scrutiny. Such open examination is not possible for many who have to travel long distances, with the hazards of winter weather, inadequate information and only four days to arrange for their presence at the appointed date. However rejoice in the fact that if you have a complaint you have till February 17 to mail it.

before tackling a precious deifenbachia unless you are still too tired.

We were met by a very pleasant surprise Thursday night when Nancy Picard and Peggy Neville, voice, showed up to give us another nice evening of singing all the old familiar favourites. This time our Jack Pollard provided some harmonica accompaniment adding to the harmony. Not much attempt was made to stray away from our senior citizens song book. Both of these talented ladies assured us that they would be here to repeat each Thursday in 1981. Cheers.

We got the first ring on the jigsaw but it would appear that there is a piece missing. A missing piece is irksome but that is all. If we can finish that out that is all that is missing we will still have the fun of doing so. Sometimes we think it adds challenge. Not many of the residents are yet interested.

Friday morning we decided there was enough snow on the shed roof even maybe too much. The natural solution would have been to shovel it off but we argued the idea of placing a wood post under the centre of the ridge but considered it was too urgent for that. Maybe we can do so next winter. Without any protest or such Norman Titus climbed up and removed the snow, a very arduous job for one person. Had better truss work been done in building the shed it would hold whatever snow fell. Anyway Norman has our gratitude for doing it.

Pastor the Rev. John Smith of Lakeside Baptist Church in Haliburton, led the devotional period Friday morning. His wife Velma was the pianist. Rev. took as his theme the story of the four lepers as related in Kings 11, Ch. 7 during the siege of Samaria by the Syrians. What God had told through his prophet Elisha would happen did happen illustrating God's power. Even in those days power plays between nations were as much in vogue as they are today.

Two movies were shown in the afternoon - 1. Alexander MacKenzie, showing him and his party on one of his explorations. This was pretty hard work and living conditions were terrible, but he chose this to a life of opulence that was his in his Scottish homeland. He was truly a great guy. 2. Canada North, more exploring but modern. Since Canada gained jurisdiction of the Arctic she simply had to show a presence. This too was a drudgery that for some reason, maybe adventure, it is much sought after. The locations of everything of any importance must be pinpointed on a map to infinite accuracy, while living in great discomfort at all times.

We have a new volunteer helper that has been helping now for over two weeks with bingo and with games. She was good help when we reported the big deifenbachia, because with a job like that a lot of help is needed to keep things tidy as we proceed. Thanks for your help Laura now and more to come.

Carnarvon News

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Archer left on Saturday for a three-week bus trip through Florida with several other couples. Sounds like a lot of fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Dennison of Toronto spent the weekend visiting with relatives here. We were sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Ted Cowan of Hamilton. Ted was born and raised here in the village and was one of a large family which included Harry of Minden and Bob of Carnarvon. Our sympathies go out to all his family. Ted was 59 years old.

Mrs. Ray McKay and Tracy are in Newmarket where her father is very ill. We send our prayers and get well wishes to him.

It seems the topic of conversation these days is the weather, such a long stretch of intense cold to our friends and neighbours in Florida. As I write this January 12, it is 40 below Fahrenheit.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis of Kirkfield spent Sunday visiting with relatives here.

Intended for last week - Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKay and sons spent an early Christmas in Toronto with Jan's family.

Home from hospitals in time for Christmas were Royce Harrison from the Wellesley Hospital in Toronto; Mrs. Francis Thomas from St. Joseph's in Peterborough and Mrs. Louise McKay from the Minden hospital and we certainly wish them all better health in the coming year. Cont'd. page 12

I'm sorry to report that Harry Staples is in hospital and that Gwen Faulkner of Peterborough goes back to hospital this weekend. Perhaps some of Gwen's former high school friends could send her a note of cheer. IN MEMORIAM

HEWITT - In loving memory of a dear son "Sterling" who suddenly left us January 19, 1974.

Lovingly remembered by Mom 32-P-14

HEWITT - In loving memory of a dear son "Sterling" who left us suddenly January 19, 1974.
Hello there, dear brother, just thought we would drop a line.
To assure you're not forgotten and always on our mind.
Though in body you're not with us, nor your voice we cannot hear.
The memory of such a wonderful brother will be forever near.
Always remembered by Moyer, Elaine, Opal, Valerie and families. 32-P-14

JOHNSTON - In loving memory of our two sons Myles Ellwood who was killed October 11, 1968 and Alvin Carl who died accidentally January 16, 1964.
A million times I've needed you
A million times I've cried
If love could have you, you never would have died
Things we feel most deeply are the hardest things.
My darling sons I loved you in a very special way.
If I could have one lifetime wish
One dream that could come true
I'd pray to God with all my heart for yesterday and you.
A part of my heart they took with them.
But their love they left me to keep
So we will never really be parted
The bond between us is too deep.
Always remembered and sadly missed by Mom, Dad, sisters and brothers. 32-P-14

NEWELL - In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Victoria Newell, who passed away January 13, 1973.

What Troubles?
There are troubles that trouble us day by day; There are troubles that worry our lives away; But the troubles that trouble us most of all, Are the troubles that never happen at all. When some real trouble comes along, When something or other does really go wrong, After all, come to think, it isn't so bad. As a heap of the troubles we thought we had.

Adios and take care now.

Woodville wins Larry Reynolds trophy

seconds later, Bobcaygeon connected to narrow the gap to two.

Neither team could rack up any more points, and Haliburton advanced to the championship game, while Bobcaygeon was eliminated.

In the other semi-final game on the championship side, Woodville and Omamee tied at three apiece, but Woodville got the win because they scored the first goal.

On the consolation side, Minden faced off against Fenelon Falls for what proved to be a close, hard-fought game.

Fenelon Falls jumped out to an early lead with goals at 1:45 and 3:56 of the opening period, but Minden came back to narrow the gap at 6:33 when Scott Russell teamed up with Scott Stevenson.

Neither team scored in the second period, but in the third, Minden began to dominate, as Scott Russell got his second at 3:26 unassisted and his third at 4:28 from Dwayne Cooper.

Final score was Minden 3, Fenelon Falls 2. In the other consolation semi-final, Mark St. John's 4 - 2.

The consolation final was another heart stopper, as the teams traded goals in the first period, but could not get on the board in the second or third. Mark St. tallied first, at 2:42, while Minden had to wait until 9:02 for Russell to team up with Stevenson to tie the score.

In the overtime period the teams were again held at bay by strong defensive play. With just 44 seconds remaining in the five-minute extra period, Scott Russell scored unassisted to give Minden the win.

Team coach Tom Russell was happy with his squad's play in the tournament, and praised the youngsters for their team effort.

The championship final saw Haliburton face off against a strong team from Woodville.

Haliburton was held off the board until the third period, when Dean Brownson connected from Rydman and Byers at 4:06, and Byers connected from Rydman and Perrin at 9:48.
